GERMANY LAYS RUHR CASE BEFORE AMERICA

TEUTONS WANT TO NEGOTIATE PLAN OF REPARATIONS

AT SAME TIME SHOW NO WILLINGNESS TO SURRENDER TO FRENCH DEMANDS

NOTE GIVEN HUGHES DID NOT SPECIFY ANY DEFINITE AMOUNT TO BE PAID

(By United Press)

Washington, March 17.—Germany has officially laid her case in the Ruhr crisis before the United States government, it was learned authoritatively today.

A communication from the Berlin government outlining in a general way how far Germany is willing to go to bring an end to the Ruhr occupation was placed before Secretary of State Hughes last night by the German embassy here.

While neither Secretary Hughes nor Counsellor Dieckhoff of the German embassy, who presented the note would discuss it, the United Press learned that this communication is the explanation of the recent cloud of conflicting reports from Europe of secret negotiations between Berlin and London to bring about a settlement in the Ruhr. The same exposition of Germany's position has been laid before the British government. The real object of Germany's action is to start negotiations which will end the Ruhr occupation with the United States and Great Britain playing the role of peace makers.

Germany is anxious to end the occupation, but at the same time in presenting her case to the foreign governments she is showing no willingness to surrender to the French demands, but she is expressing a willingness to negotiate the reparations question, and is indirectly inviting the British and American governments to take the lead in this matter.

The United Press learned that the note handed to Secretary Hughes did not specify any definite reparations which Germany is willing to pay, to end the occupation nor does it specifically demand the withdrawal of the French and Belgian troops as a prerequisite to negotiations.

FIRST LEASE OF A COTTAGE ON ROUND LAKE IS REPORTED

A. E. CLARK, PRESIDENT NORTHERN MINN. LAKE SHORE DEVELOPMENT CO. LESSEE

PERRY S. WILLIAMS OF MPLS. JOURNAL TRAVEL AND RESORT BUREAU, ASK NEWS

The early spring fever of a violent type is stirring the blood of adventurous tourists, who already are intent upon penetrating the Brainerd lake region. The call of the wild, of the lakes and the fishing and everything else that goes with it cannot be resisted even if western blizzards rage against the casement.

That people are thinking of the Brainerd lake region is evidenced by the report of one of the first leases made on Round lake, 12 miles north of Brainerd, where A. E. Clark of Minneapolis, president of the Northern Minnesota Lake Shore Development Company, Incorporated, has leased the beautiful and commodious lake cottage of I. C. Strout for a term from May 15 to September 5 for $200, making an advance payment on the rental.

With this announcement comes also news of great improvements in this section of Round Lake. Anton Mahlum has platted Sunset View and two additions, all having a wonderfully beautiful frontage on this lake and many cottages are expected to be erected on this shore. The roadway, running through the Mahlum sugar bush, is believed to be 75 years old, and is of deep historic interest. The woods carry huge trees, white pine and oak, maple and birch, growing luxuriantly. Care has been taken that none of the original advantages of forest and lakeside shall be lost.

There are reports also of a hotel to be built on Round Lake, also of cottages to be built by another large realty owner on this lake, the Cinosam club.

Asks About Roads

One of the Minneapolis agencies cooperating in whole hearted fashion with Brainerd is the Minneapolis Journal Travel and Resort Bureau, managed by Perry S. Williams. During the season Mr. Perry answers thousands of questions about the Brainerd lake region, has distributed our literature adn has directed many tourists here.

One of his activities is keeping tab on road conditions from Minneapolis to Brainerd and other northern lake centers.

The Minneapolis Journal cooperated with the Brainerd Dispatch to the fullest extent in the movement to extend the tourist season to include the months of September and October and at the annual meeting of the 10,000 Lakes of Minnesota, Association this was recognized and the season was officially extended to now run from May 15 to November 1.

The Brainerd Civic & Commerce Association publicity and other committees acknowledged with grateful feelings the fine spirit of cooperation shown by the Minneapolis Journal and its travel and resort bureau manager, Mr. Williams and every effort will be made this season to preserve this "entente".

E. H. REIMERS CONFESSES TO SQUANDERING LUMBER COMPANY MONEY

(By United Press)

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, March 17—E. H. Reimers, former manager of the Keve lumber company, here today confessed squandering $100,000 of the concern's money in speculation, officials announced. Reimers was arrested while in hiding at a local hotel under an assumed name.

Reimers pleaded guilty when arrested, and was sentenced to serve five years in the penitentiary.

After being questioned for three hours, the prisoner broke down and admitted that by clever juggling of the books, he was able to cover up the theft.

"I lost all my personal funds by speculation in the grain markets" Reimers alleged confession stated.

"In a final effort to make a big cleanup, I threw more than $100,000 of the company's money into the pot. The market dropped and in a day I had lost all".

Reimers' alleged thefts were reported discovered a week ago when he disappeared. He returned to Cedar Rapids last night, registering under the name of "Wilson" at a local hotel .

The Keve's company is one of the largest in the midwest and operates in seventeen cities in as many states.

FIRST LEASE OF A COTTAGE ON ROUND LAKE IS REPORTED

A. E. CLARK, PRESIDENT NORTHERN MINN. LAKE SHORE DEVELOPMENT CO. LESSEE

PERRY S. WILLIAMS OF MPLS. JOURNAL TRAVEL AND RESORT BUREAU, ASK NEWS

The early spring fever of a violent type is stirring the blood of adventurous tourists, who already are intent upon penetrating the Brainerd lake region. The call of the wild, of the lakes and the fishing and everything else that goes with it cannot be resisted even if western blizzards rage against the casement.

That people are thinking of the Brainerd lake region is evidenced by the report of one of the first leases made on Round lake, 12 miles north of Brainerd, where A. E. Clark of Minneapolis, president of the Northern Minnesota Lake Shore Development Company, Incorporated, has leased the beautiful and commodious lake cottage of I. C. Strout for a term from May 15 to September 5 for $200, making an advance payment on the rental.

With this announcement comes also news of great improvements in this section of Round Lake. Anton Mahlum has platted Sunset View and two additions, all having a wonderfully beautiful frontage on this lake and many cottages are expected to be erected on this shore. The roadway, running through the Mahlum sugar bush, is believed to be 75 years old, and is of deep historic interest. The woods carry huge trees, white pine and oak, maple and birch, growing luxuriantly. Care has been taken that none of the original advantages of forest and lakeside shall be lost.

There are reports also of a hotel to be built on Round Lake, also of cottages to be built by another large realty owner on this lake, the Cinosam club.

Asks About Roads

One of the Minneapolis agencies cooperating in whole hearted fashion with Brainerd is the Minneapolis Journal Travel and Resort Bureau, managed by Perry S. Williams. During the season Mr. Perry answers thousands of questions about the Brainerd lake region, has distributed our literature adn has directed many tourists here.

One of his activities is keeping tab on road conditions from Minneapolis to Brainerd and other northern lake centers.

The Minneapolis Journal cooperated with the Brainerd Dispatch to the fullest extent in the movement to extend the tourist season to include the months of September and October and at the annual meeting of the 10,000 Lakes of Minnesota, Association this was recognized and the season was officially extended to now run from May 15 to November 1.

The Brainerd Civic & Commerce Association publicity and other committees acknowledged with grateful feelings the fine spirit of cooperation shown by the Minneapolis Journal and its travel and resort bureau manager, Mr. Williams and every effort will be made this season to preserve this "entente".

CREATING NEW VALUES

IN twenty-five years the greatest iron ore producing territory in the United States will be little more than a dream, unless men improve methods by which ores of lower grades are given a commercial value by a cheap means of separating the ore from the waste materials that go with it.

Forethought has led men to attempt to make these ores valuable, and Northern Minnesota has reason to appreciate their efforts. It is now announced that the process has been thoroughly tested with the assurance that these ores may take their place on the market in competition with other ores of a higher grade. The full production of the experiment plant is used and a larger production, which can only be made possible by extension of the mines and the magnetic machines that attract the ore, is in demand.

Northern Minnesota need not fear that after twenty-five years it will cease to be known as the greatest ore-producing territory in the land. Vast deposits await the coming of the mining engineer who will bring them into use by still further improved methods of handling. Experiments will lead to a cheapening of the process so that ores of lower grade may be placed on the market at a cost not much above that of the high grade ores.

In the light of these experiments, that have proved to be successful, one can envisage the development of the enormous ore fields of Cook county, and see in imagination, new ports, new docks and new towns rising to a place of prominence on the north shore of Lake Superior. The people of Grand Marais, who through the years have hoped for the opening up of Cook county, and have never lost their faith, but have confidently expected to see their town grow into a prosperous city, may yet see their dreams come true.

With the coming of manufacturing plants to the Twin Cities, which are likely to become the center for large manufacturing interests in the Northwest, the ores of Minnesota will easily compete with others that would have to be hauled farther. Northern Minnesota need no longer fear that time when her high-grade ores have been carried away. The duration of its ascendency as an ore-producing territory has been extended from twenty-five years to a century.

INTERIM EDUCATION COMMITTEE PROPOSED

VARIOUS recommendations that have been made looking to the improvement of the educational system in Minnesota, resulting from the different criticisms that have been offered, show conclusively that there is no thorough knowledge of the workings of the system.

It would be far better to make appropriations now to cover the cost of the system, to pass such lgeislation as is clearly beneficial, to refuse to introduce legislation that might cripple the school work of the state, and to appoint a committee which, during the interim between the conclusion of this legislature's work and the opening of the legislature in 1925, would make a thorough investigation of the schools of the state and be prepared to submit legislation based upon a thorough appraisal of the state's educational program, than to consider half-baked legislation now.

If the proposal leads to indifference to legislation that is now before the legislature, and this fails to pass because the senate and house prefer to await the findings of the proposed committee, progressive measures that many wish to have passed will be held up for a time, but, after the committee has reported, the legislature will be better prepared to enact measures that are in line with the demonstrated needs of the system.

There is no reason, however, why certain recommendations that have been made should not be passed during this session of the legislature. There are things in these recommendations that are clearly for the good of the educational work of the state and these ought to be put into immediate operation.

The interim committee would doubtless be able to find means by which educational opportunity would be equalized. Luxury at one end and poverty at the other cannot be accepted by a people who boast of equality of opportunity. After all of the children are given a fair education, the larger centers of the state may spend a great deal of money on frills, but until some of the cost of frills is used for giving children in rural places an education minus the frills, the system is unjust.

THREE Crow Wing county ladies will have the opportunity of studying human nature if they sit in the jury box as petit jurors. They may wonder how the two parties to a dispute can tell such different stories.

The First Baptist Church

The services both morning and evening will be of interest at the First Baptist church. Rev. Arthur C. Smith, pastor.

At 9:45 the Sunday school at which time the school will assemble for twenty minutes to rehearse the Easter music. All teachers, officers and scholars are asked to be present and on time.

Smith will discuss this question of "God or Gorilla," "Man or Monkey," "The Bible or Evolution."

CREATING NEW VALUES

IN twenty-five years the greatest iron ore producing territory in the United States will be little more than a dream, unless men improve methods by which ores of lower grades are given a commercial value by a cheap means of separating the ore from the waste materials that go with it.

Forethought has led men to attempt to make these ores valuable, and Northern Minnesota has reason to appreciate their efforts. It is now announced that the process has been thoroughly tested with the assurance that these ores may take their place on the market in competition with other ores of a higher grade. The full production of the experiment plant is used and a larger production, which can only be made possible by extension of the mines and the magnetic machines that attract the ore, is in demand.

Northern Minnesota need not fear that after twenty-five years it will cease to be known as the greatest ore-producing territory in the land. Vast deposits await the coming of the mining engineer who will bring them into use by still further improved methods of handling. Experiments will lead to a cheapening of the process so that ores of lower grade may be placed on the market at a cost not much above that of the high grade ores.

In the light of these experiments, that have proved to be successful, one can envisage the development of the enormous ore fields of Cook county, and see in imagination, new ports, new docks and new towns rising to a place of prominence on the north shore of Lake Superior. The people of Grand Marais, who through the years have hoped for the opening up of Cook county, and have never lost their faith, but have confidently expected to see their town grow into a prosperous city, may yet see their dreams come true.

With the coming of manufacturing plants to the Twin Cities, which are likely to become the center for large manufacturing interests in the Northwest, the ores of Minnesota will easily compete with others that would have to be hauled farther. Northern Minnesota need no longer fear that time when her high-grade ores have been carried away. The duration of its ascendency as an ore-producing territory has been extended from twenty-five years to a century.

INTERIM EDUCATION COMMITTEE PROPOSED

VARIOUS recommendations that have been made looking to the improvement of the educational system in Minnesota, resulting from the different criticisms that have been offered, show conclusively that there is no thorough knowledge of the workings of the system.

It would be far better to make appropriations now to cover the cost of the system, to pass such lgeislation as is clearly beneficial, to refuse to introduce legislation that might cripple the school work of the state, and to appoint a committee which, during the interim between the conclusion of this legislature's work and the opening of the legislature in 1925, would make a thorough investigation of the schools of the state and be prepared to submit legislation based upon a thorough appraisal of the state's educational program, than to consider half-baked legislation now.

If the proposal leads to indifference to legislation that is now before the legislature, and this fails to pass because the senate and house prefer to await the findings of the proposed committee, progressive measures that many wish to have passed will be held up for a time, but, after the committee has reported, the legislature will be better prepared to enact measures that are in line with the demonstrated needs of the system.

There is no reason, however, why certain recommendations that have been made should not be passed during this session of the legislature. There are things in these recommendations that are clearly for the good of the educational werk of the state and these ought to be put into immediate operation.

The interim committee would doubtless be able to find means by which educational opportunity would be equalized. Luxury at one end and poverty at the other cannot be accepted by a people who boast of equality of opportunity. After all of the children are given a fair education, the larger centers of the state may spend a great deal of money on frills, but until some of the cost of frills is used for giving children in rural places an education minus the frills, the system is unjust.

THREE Crow Wing county ladies will have the opportunity of studying human nature if they sit in the jury box as petit jurors. They may wonder how the two parties to a dispute can tell such different stories.

Smith will discuss this question of "God or Gorilla," "Man or Monkey," "The Bible or Evolution."

L. A. Swensen, District Commercial Manager of the Western Union, Speaks at Rotary Luncheon

FIVE IMPORTANT ESSENTIALS

Nate Gordon, Minneapolis, Spoke on Near East Relief, Dr. R. A. Beise Reported on St. Paul Rotary

L. A. Swensen, district commercial manager of the Western Union Telegraph Co., with headquarters in Minneapolis, is in Brainerd and spoke before the Rotary Club at their noon day luncheon Friday.

"We must advertise," exclaimed Mr. Swensen. "The efficacy of advertising cannot be questioned. I recently heard a speaker declare that out of nineteen thousand business failures, 84% of them were non-users of advertising."

Business conditions have shown a decided improvement the past few months, Mr. Swensen declared. Every indication points to a continued and improved condition throughout the coming year. Competition, however, is and will be very keen and every one of us must use the very best methods at our command in order that we get our just share of the business.

The speaker mentioned five important essentials to the success of any business:

First, to go into business one must have money or very good credit on which to raise funds.

Second, one must have good business brains and surround himself with assistants equally endowed.

Third, one must buy or manufacture, advertise and sell. It is a well known truth that goods well bought are half sold, and that advertising and selling are so closely allied today that most business men cannot tell where advertising leaves off and selling begins.

Fourth, correspondence, which as we know, knits the concern with its patrons and traveling representatives of the house.

Fifth, perhaps the biggest element of all, is that elusive thing we know as "Time." Greater efficiency in business means nothing more nor less than making a more practical and intensive use of time, for time is money.

In speaking of the many advantages of the telegraph over the mailed letter in business, Mr. Swensen offered some very interesting figures to back up his arguments, dwelling at length on the value of time saved in using the telegram instead of the typed letter.

"The sum of your business activity is made up of the units represented by your individual business transactions. To swell it, you must have more units. To have more units, each separate unit must step livelier to get out of the way of those that are to follow. The unit can be made to move faster only in one way, and that is by reducing the time consumed in completing it."

Nate Gordon, of Minneapolis, was given five minutes previous to Mr. Swensen's address, to explain his mission in connection with the Near East Relief work, in which he is interested.

Dr. R. A. Beise reported on the work of his committee in making final arrangements for attending the district conference of Rotary, in this, the Ninth District, to be held in St. Paul Auditorium March 20th and 21st. Brainerd will send a big delegation.

MANY HEAR PIPE ORGAN FRIDAY

Seating Capacity of First Congregational Church Taxed at Both Concerts

W. S. MARSHALL, ORGANIST

Program Well Chosen, as Were Also Vocal Numbers of Ruth Bradley Swinnerton

In spite of blizzardy weather conditions, the seating capacity of the First Congregational church was taxed to its limit last evening, the occasion being the first hearing of the new pipe organ.

The organist chosen for this dedicatory recital was W. S. Marshall of Gethsemane church of Minneapolis. The singer was Ruth Bradley Swinnerton, soloist in the same church.

Although Mr. Marshall was accustomed to playing a great four manual organ, he succeeded wonderfully well in showing the capacity of the smaller organ. His program was well chosen for this purpose, and also for illustrating the varying moods and emotions that can be expressed through organ pipes. One commonly conects the organ with the solemn strains of sacred music, or with funeral or marriage rites. But, while the sonorous tones were well illustrated in such selections as "Solemn Prelude," by Noble, "Offertoire de St. Ceciele," by Baptiste, and "March Pontificale," by Lemmens, fancy was given free play, and the organ's softer cadences and lighter moods were well illustrated in such selections as "Fountain Reverie," by Fletcher, and "Moonlight," by D'Evry. In the last number, one could fairly see the shimmering moonlight as it fell on trembling leaf and flower.

A still more surprising mood was that illustrated by "Two Country Dances," by Edward German. This number was an almost exact imitation of the dance music usually heard at country dances.

Nor did the organist neglect to show the adaptability of the organ to the formal Sonata form, opening his program with one in C minor, by Guilmant.

The singer, Mrs. Swinnerton, also chose widely varying compositions "Hear Ye, Israel," from Mendelssohn's Elijah and the delightful group "A Spirit Flower" by Campbell Titton. "Slumber Song" by Gretchainow. Her encore to the last number was a unique number illustrating the impatience of a youthful lullaby singer, who was obliged to put the baby to sleep before he could go out and play.

Mrs. Swinnerton captured her audience both by her voice and manner and received hearty recalls.

The whole recital was one of much pleasure and the occasion one of hearty congratulations both to the church and the community, as it promises a continuance of such musical feasts and an opportunity for greater education in the appreciation of organ music.

WITH THE FIGHTLESS CHAMPIONS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, March 17.—Since July 2, 1921, when he flattened the stunning Carpentier, Jack Dempsey hasn't done a thing in the ring.

Johnny Wilson hasn't defended the middleweight championship since July 4, 1922, and then against a "ham."

Benny Leonard has been idle since last August.

Johnny Kilbane hasn't had the featherweight crown on exhibition since 1921.

Joe Lynch is fighting second raters in no-decision bouts and giving real contenders the expert side step.

All of which may be taken to show and to mean that when the boys do get hold of a title they hold it.

* * * * * * * * *

Dempsey can't fight because he wants too much money and the politicians are afraid of the reformers.

Wilson has the excuse that he is under suspension of the New York commission.

Leonard is an actor.

Kilbane and Lynch have no excuses.

* * * * * * * * *

The middleweight champion, however, has been matched to meet Billy Shade in Boston in the near future and he may be reinstated by the New York commission in the meantime.

Leonard is sure to fight twice this summer and Kilbane is training for a bout with Eugene Criqui, the European champion.

No one knows what Lynch will do.

* * * * * * * * *

Mickey Walker is in the same class with Lynch. Since he won the welterweight cvhampionship he hasn't done a thing. Efforts to get him in the ring with young Dave Shade have been fruitless. Buffalo promoters offered him an unbelievable purse with the privilege of picking his own opponent and bringing him along and he wouldn't do it.

Safety first is everything with those boys.

AMUSEMENTS

Tarkington Novel Filmed

Foremost among the novels which have brought Booth Tarkington lasting fame, is undoubtedly "The Man From Home", which has now been translated to the screen and which will be showing at the Lyceum, last time tonight.

With the action laid mostly in Italy, and several scenes in England and America, the story is a thrilling one andi n its transferrence to the screen it has lost none of its intensity.

One of the chief details is the excellent cast, which comprises such favorites as James Kirkwood, Anna Q. Nilsson, Norman Kerry, Dorothy Cumming and John Miltern.

Two Stars in Great William De Mille Production

Two Paramount stars, Agnes Ayres and Jack Holt, who were featured respectively in "The Sheik," "The Call of the North," and "The Lane That Had No Turning," play the two principal roles—those of Robert Stafford and Virginia Blaine—in "Bought and Paid For," the William de Mille special production which will be at the Lyceum theatre Sunday and Monday.

The role of Virginia Blaine was created on the stage in George Broadhurst's notable play, from which the picture was adapted by Julian Dean.

The cast is notable for the ability of the players embraced therein. Walter Hiers, a rotund, polite comedian inimitably plays "Jimmy," which was enacted by Frank Cravens in the original stage production.

Of unusual interest is the fact that Mr. Broadhurst, author of the play, and William de Mille, who produced it for the screen, worked side by side in the old days and in one year they had two of the biggest successes in New York stage history running side by side—Broadhurst's "Bought and Paid For" and de Mille's "The Woman."

SCENE FROM "HEROES OF THE STREET" A WARNER BROS. PICTURE

"Freckles" Barry in Exciting Film-play

"Heroes of the Street", which will be shown at the New Park tonight and Sunday, is the sort of picture that makes the hair stand on the head and keeps it standing there. It is packed with thrills, and checkered with comedy and pathos, so that you catch yourself roaring at one instant and gulping in your throat the next.

This is a different picture, with emphasis on "different", due to the genuinely touching love story and the pranks and fights of young Wesley Barry, the star.

Wes is decidedly "it" and runs away with the honors. He romps through the picture with the gusto of a jazz orchestra at its jazziest, and is at his best. We have seen him in "School Days" and "Rags to Riches" and enjoyed his fun. This picture is even better.

"Heroes of the Street" is, briefly, the story of Mickey Callahan, who finds life one fight after another with the kids of his neighborhood. His father, a policeman, suddenly loses his life at the hands of a mysterious gang of crooks. And, after Wes and his mother are plunged in black grief, the lad sets about sleuthing for the man who made him an orphan. We won't tell you how he does it, but we will let you into the secret sufficiently to say that it is done through a number of the most comic escapes and haidbreadth adventures ever imagined.

A beautiful romance is interwoven throught the picture. The combination of irrepressible fun-loving Wes as a detective and Marie Prevost as the innocent actress in the power of a sinister plotting producer is unbeatable, and makes this Warner Brothers production the best that has come here for many a moon.

BIG DEMAND FOR SEATS

Minneapolis, March 17—The advance sale of seats for the state-wide basketball tournament to be conducted in the Kenwood armory March 27, 28 and 29 by the Minnesota State High School Athletic association was opened today in Minneapolis and St. Parl, tickets being placed at Spaulding's and the Public Drug, Nicollet and Seventh street, Minneapolis.

First demand for a big block of seats was received by Arnold C. Oss, manager, when South St. Paul high school, district winners in the fifth, sent in a request for 400 seats for Tuesday afternoon, March 27, opening day of the tournament. Other big blocks undoubtedly will be sought by students from nearby high schools winning championships, as well as by some of the more distant ones. Both St. Cloud, only 60 miles distant, and St. James, a little more than 100 miles away, have won championships, and Minneapolis and St. Paul each will have a champion team in one district.

GEORGE SISLER MAY UNDERGO OPERATION

St. Louis, March 17.—George Sisler may be compelled to undergo a nasal operation in the very near future, it was announced today, and if this is found necessary the star first sacker probably will not participate in the opening game of the season with Detroit here April 18.

BAD WEATHER

New Orleans, March 17.—Bad weather continues to retard the training of the New York Yankees. Hinkey Haines, former Penn State football star, may be retrained for the outfield.

JOHN TILLMAN WINS

South Bend, March 17.—Johnny Tillman, Minneapolis, defeated Eddie Welch, in a slashing 10 round bout.

Funeral Services For Mrs. McCullough Friday

St. Paul, March 17—Funeral services for Mrs. E. B. McCullough, who died in Los Angeles March 9, were held here Friday.

The services were conducted at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Horace H. Irvine, 1006 Summit avenue, at 2:30 P. M.

Mrs. McCullough left St. Paul last fall to spend the winter in California She is survived by Mr. McCullouga and another daughter, Mrs. A. A. McDonell, 1111 Summit avenue.

Note—The McCulleugh's were once residents of Brainerd, when Mr. McCullough had charge of the office of the Brainerd Lumber Company. They built the home now owned by Clyde E. Parker.

SEE JIMMY DELANEY TRIM BILL SHADE

Tom Walsh and Tom Wood have returned from Duluth where they saw Jimmy Delaney get the best of Bill Shade of New York. He was given the decision and it seemed unanimous. He won every round except one. His footwork was wonderful and he carries a wicked left hand punch which Shade could not sidestep.

Tom Wood was one of the biggest fans there, that is in avoirdupois and in the sonority of his voice. Mike Gibbons said that if Tommy would make 300 pounds he would put him on with Farmer Lodge.

Leonard knocked out Mayberry in the second round, the Alberts-Raynor match was a draw, and Cashill defeated Ennis in six rounds.

Those who stayed in Brainerd got the returns of the fight card at the Walsh & Anderson pool room.

EVOLUTION AS SUBJECT

The subject of evolution is much in question these days. A big fight is on as to whether it shall be taught in the schools and colleges and universities of the land. The subject has many phases and many adherents for and against. Theist's evolution, "Atheistic evolution," "The origin of Species," "Darwinianism" and the rest. Has the missing link been found?

Next Sunday evening the Rev. Arthur C. Smith pastor of the First Baptist church will deal with this subject. "God or Gorilla," Man or Monkey," "God or Evolution."

secretary-treasurer of the Sixth District Bankers Association, comprising eleven counties. It is quite probable that this convention will be held in Crosby this summer.—Crosby Courier

The Ministerial association of Brainerd will meet on Monday March 19 at 10:30 at the Y. M. C. A.

The Elks Home association of Little Falls is considering plans and may build a two story and basement home containing lodge room, club rooms, bowling alleys, cafe, rest room and about 21 rooms for rental to transients. A site near the Mississippi river on the East side and on the north side of Broadway is being discussed.

We notice from the Daily Dispatch of Brainerd that the local police of that city are again on the alert and will again renew their activities in enforcing its traffic ordinances, made necessary by the warmer weather. Several arrests have already been made, and we might hint to Crosbyites and citizens on the range that when they visit the County Seat they had better look out, especially if they make the trip by auto. They may land in the city bastile.—Crosby Courier.

MIKE O'DOWD K.O.'D BY JOCK MALONE

St. Paul, March 17.—Jock Malone of St. Paul, recognized in Ohio as the middleweight champion, knocked out Mike O'Dowd of St. Paul, former world's champion middleweight, and still recognized as such in New York state, in less than one minute of fighting of the scheduled 10-round, no-decision bout last night.

Jock sank a vicious left into O'Dowd's stomach before the latter was hardly out of his corner. After a few seconds of footwork Jock hooked a left to the jaw that sent the former champion sprawling. The "harp" regained his footing with difficulty, only to go down immediately from a right to the jaw. Mike made a desperate attempt to stand up several times. After falling twice without being struck, the referee raised Malone's hand as a token of victory.

O'Dowd weighed 158½ and Malone 152½. Malone entered the ring first and received a ripple of applause. O'Dowd followed immediately and received a roaring ovation.

TAKE SALTS FOR A KIDNEY BACKACHE

Drink Lots of Water All Day Long to Keep Kidneys Flushed

Too much rich food forms acids which excite and overwork the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Flush the kidneys occasionally to relieve them like you relieve the bowels, removing acids, waste and poison, else you may feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, the stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get irritated, obliging one to to get up two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste, begin drinking water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine and bladder disorders disappear.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help prevent serious kidney and bladder disorders.

By all means, drink lots of good water every day. Have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advt.

The Ministerial association of Brainerd will meet on Monday March 19 at 10:30 at the Y. M. C. A.

—o—

The Elks Home association of Little Falls is considering plans and may build a two story and basement home containing lodge room, club rooms, bowling alleys, cafe, rest room and about 21 rooms for rental to transients. A site near the Mississippi river on the East side and on the north side of Broadway is being discussed.

—o—

We notice from the Daily Dispatch of Brainerd that the local police of that city are again on the alert and will again renew their activities in enforcing its traffic ordinances, made necessary by the warmer weather. Several arrests have already been made, and we might hint to Crosbyites and citizens on the range that when they visit the County Seat they had better look out, especially if they make the trip by auto. They may land in the city bastile.—Crosby Courier.

MIKE O'DOWD K.O.'D BY JOCK MALONE

St. Paul, March 17.—Jock Malone of St. Paul, recognized in Ohio as the middleweight champion, knocked out Mike O'Dowd of St. Paul, former world's champion middleweight, and still recognized as such in New York state, in less than one minute of fighting of the scheduled 10-round, no-decision bout last night.

Jock sank a vicious left into O'Dowd's stomach before the latter was hardly out of his corner. After a few seconds of footwork Jock hooked a left to the jaw that sent the former champion sprawling. The "harp" regained his footing with difficulty, only to go down immediately from a right to the jaw. Mike made a desperate attempt to stand up several times. After falling twice without being struck, the referee raised Malone's hand as a token of victory.

O'Dowd weighed 158½ and Malone 152½. Malone entered the ring first and received a ripple of applause. O'Dowd followed immediately and received a roaring ovation.

TAKE SALTS FOR A KIDNEY BACKACHE

Drink Lots of Water All Day Long to Keep Kidneys Flushed

Too much rich food forms acids which excite and overwork the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Flush the kidneys occasionally to relieve them like you relieve the bowels, removing acids, waste and poison, else you may feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, the stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get irritated, obliging one to to get up two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste, begin drinking water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine and bladder disorders disappear.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help prevent serious kidney and bladder disorders.

By all means, drink lots of good water every day. Have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advt.
